CONTAINER SIGNAGE

Container signage is a fast way to create branding of your company – it's durable, movable, and large enough to make the biggest impact of your message or logo.

Being able to promote in unusual places, and stacking the containers for height or configuring them in different ways makes shipping containers the ultimate branding tool. Container signage gets your potential customers attention instantly.

By modifying your shipping container with colour and graphics matching your corporate or brand identity it becomes a huge advertizing billboard.

Modifying your container

There are two different options to fasten signage – using stickers or putting up a banner. All available in custom sizing and different materials.

Stickers and decals

Stickers and decals are versatile, easy to install and can be removed if needed. Great for small scale designs where you don't need large format promotion. Choose a container with a basecolour that suits your message or colour the base of the container with a paint that matches your design.

Banners

For large format shipping container advertising, we advice using Banner Mesh or PVC Vinyl over the entire container sides, or doors (or both!). This is an effective way to maximise impact and exposure.

The banners can be fixed in a few ways, either welded & eyeleted or with a rope track installation, also known as Sail track or Keder track. A welded and eyeleted edge is great for DIYers – as you can use ropes threaded through these to fix the signage to the container where needed. A Keder tracking however does have a cleaner finish, as even though the edges are welded with a rod, this edge is inserted into aluminium track during installation, so that all that you can see on the final result is the metal edging. This type of finishing is the absolute strongest available on the market today, and is perfect for high wind areas.

For the ultimate billboard experience, we can also install LED Billboard Lights to illuminate your shipping container billboard at night.
